Mastering Transformations with Leadership Excellence

Transformations rarely fail due to technical issues – they usually fail due to the mindset of those involved. In times of rapid change, leaders are needed who not only manage processes but also engage their employees without losing sight of the results.

In this sense, «Leadership Excellence» means creating transparency, providing direction, and not shying away from open dialogue with clarity on the issues. The articles in this newsletter explain how this kind of leadership can create an environment within the company where teams see challenges as opportunities and shape change together.

We wish you an informative and inspiring read.

BECOMING A «LEADER IN FOOD»

Under the motto «Unity in Diversity,» the Bell Food Group established a way of thinking and working that is deeply rooted in its DNA and actively practiced. Our videos show how the company implemented a robust framework for strategic goal management and continuous improvement with EFESO.

SHAPING TRANSFORMATION

Successful change begins with people who develop their thinking and actions with a future-oriented mindset. With EFESO, you can shape the framework for sustainable transformations and implement this change strategically within your organization.

DEVELOPING LEADERSHIP SKILLS

A global market leader in the process industry implemented an OPEX & Leadership Excellence program with EFESO. Our new case study describes how this led to measurable improvements at both the operational and cultural levels.

INCREASE PROFITABILITY

Extend your regular change processes with the EFESO Commercial Change Management Process (CCMP) to include a commercial evaluation. Together we will increase the profitability of change initiatives in your company.
